Dear Mr. Frazier:

Harold was glad to get your letter of April 28 today. He is a little too weak to answer himself as he is currently recovering from a combination of pneumonia and pleurisy.

We are sorry you and Dianne couldn't get here and hope that in the future you may be able to.

Harold thinks that if you can persuade Rolling Stone to consider and publish an article on him that is other than an axe job he will be the first to make shrimps whistle.

However, he is quite willing for any kind of an interview once he is really back on his feet and has had a chance to catch up a little. He is following the newest misuse of the autopsy materials and would welcome any stories of whatever origin you may see.

We both congratulate you on admission to law school. If the distance between us does not make it impossible, our friend and lawyer, Jim Lesar, may ask you for help. Once you have the facilities of a good library available, it is not at all impossible that you can help.

Our best,

Lillian Weisberg
